LifeRing Supports Multiple Language Operations

Worldwide Command and Control involves many nations some of whom need a Command and Control system in their native language. To respond to this need, AGIS' Worldwide MDDL System Supports multiple language Operations.

There is also an option to have built-in video tutorials for each function embedded into the UI in the selected language.

Below is a screen shot of our system used by US-backed Ukrainian forces that allowed English speaking commanders to train and interoperate with Ukrainian speaking troops.
